Welcome to the new site. Do you have a short film or a trailer for your latest feature? If so you can upload it to our cinema where others can rate it and comment on it. You can also help your fellow filmmakers by uploading articles or posting your experiences to your blog. If we like your entries enough we'll add them to the front page of the site. You can also leave your actors and crew people feedback on the profile guestbook. Remember to add a picture to your profile so everyone can see your friendly face. Have fun.
